

Kent and Medway Learning Disability Community of Practice Purpose - Claims Concerns and Issues

CLAIM

Strategic planning, values & Blog to promote person centred care.

Able to identify strategic objectives

The website/blog is useful and easy to use

Promoting person centred care and reducing health inequalities

I think the objective is very clear and values are well defined I think having equal health opportunities & eradicating inequalities would be worth thinking about

Increasing knowledge, raising awareness, making a positive change.

Growing interest regarding learning disabilities

Inclusive → individuals evoking positive change

Raising awareness

The CoP has increased my knowledge in areas I didn't know about

Sharing good practice amongst a range of others

Expertise and growth through sharing and

Enable us to network and facilitate a voice to share ideas and concerns and good practice

The CoP should be celebrated and to date it has been a success but needs to grow

The CoP is facilitating significantly improved networking in healthcare for people with learning disabilities in Kent and Medway

Expertise within CoP & Engagement

CONCERN

That the whole 'community' of practitioners are unaware of the Community of Practice

I think getting more organisations to actively participate in sharing good practice would support this mission stronger links between this forum & organisations is needed

There needs to be greater representation across professional groups

Promoting equality is questionable at times

Training for doctors across the spectrum of grades

What is the position of the CoP?

Is listening to us this? How far does our voice go?

What authority and powers does it have with stakeholders & agencies? Where does it fit structurally?

Whole of Kent involvement → practitioners in experts, including Trusts. Patient Involvement in

How to involve and engage experts by experience in the work of the CoP?

experts by experience

Accessibility of the Blog

How do we involve more people with learning disabilities?

How to involve and engage individuals, professional groups and organisations, in Kent and Medway and beyond in the work of the CoP?

How might we measure the outcomes /outputs of the CoP?

How much of our evidence and research is being published?

How do we know when equal health opportunities/health inequalities have been eradicated?

ISSUE

Could more resources be placed on the website for people with learning disabilities eg easy read information, health information?

How can we develop the CoP? Where does it need to develop?

How accessible is the information for people with learning disabilities?

Can connect all the organisations of Id practice in furthering aims of the cop that we already share ie reducing health inequalities for pwld?

Is there a concern of working in silo's? ie what's happening outside of K&M?

Should the CoP grow an audience outside of K&M?

Can this be made assessment more effective / resources?

Develop impact outside our locality?

How do we raise better awareness in health inequalities specifically mental health?

Promoting person centred health facilitation across the whole system

Can we have better health facilitation?

How can best practice be better promoted and evidenced in the direct support arena?

What is the CoP actually doing?

How do we raise awareness development to maintain standards?

How could resources enable monitoring toward outcomes?

How big? How to monitor changes to development to

Will the CoP be adequately funded commissioned in future?
